

Unfailing Love I wrote this out of Psalm 13 because there are days I feel like I've lost God. The enemy is on the attack and it seems God is nowhere to be found. But, just like David wrote, I trust in His unfailing love. He will never leave me. Thank-you Father God for your unfailing love that always leads me back to You.

Unfailing Love

Have you forgotten me
How long will you hide I'm alone with my thoughts and my heart is sad

But I trust in your unfailing love
I rejoice for you have saved me and I will sing your praise for I know that you take care of me

Father look at me
Can't live without you Please don't let my enemy rejoice and say that he has won

For I trust in your unfailing love
I rejoice for you have saved me
and I will sing your praise
for I know that you take care of me

copyright 2008